The wife of the Chinese minister was the most admired beauty at the president's reception. "Peace hath her victories no less renowned than war." Where is Mrs. Japanese?

M. Zola's friends announce that he has just sustained his fourteenth defeat in the French academy, but as he had not received a single vote at the recent election, it is by no means certain that he is out of the thirteen hole.

The citizens of Fremont, Ohio, who have been "left out in the cold" by a disconnection in the fuel gas supply, are probably thinking of the old adage which warns people against putting all their eggs in one basket.

The new parliament building at Berlin is a splendid structure, erected at a cost of $7,000,000. New York's new capitol is a monstrous, already crumbling in various places. It has cost $22,000,000, and $2,000,000 more are needed to complete the architect's plans.

Cotton growers should not forget to keep an eye on Egypt. The new Egyptian budget contains an item of $800,000 for an irrigation dam on the Upper Nile, and this means a large increase in the already extensive cotton production of that country.

Detroit scientist claims that the atmosphere at the poles acts as lenses to gather and condense the solar light. His argument in support of the idea is elaborate, and he contends that more of nature's secrets are hidden at the poles than has supposed.

In the case of the poet Helne the fate is reversed of Homer, who was claimed by so many cities after his death. Helne's native city, Düsseldorf, has declined a gift of his statue, and so has Mainz, where he lived for a time. The poet was too sharp a critic of Germany to be easily forgotten.

A new electric road at New Orleans, extending from Carrollton to the United States barracks, gives a ride of fourteen miles for 5c. The trolley is second only to the modern newspaper in giving a big return for a nickel.

A statue of Li Hung Chang, ten feet high, ordered for one of the great ports by admiring friends some time ago, has just been completed in Germany and is awaiting instructions. As it is not wanted now in China, Mrs. Tinsell, an American, has offered to take it.

Senator Fair thought he was providing against all possible contingencies when he left $50,000 to any widow who might turn up, and a like amount for any children who might have been forgotten. A man who had been as easy in life as he was in death, liable to forget a wife or two, or a group of children here and there.

The revelations before the Letox committee may cause a tide of emigration to set in toward New York city and toward police headquarters. A place on the force has been made available, but the committee has not yet decided on the number of men to be added.

Three children who had been locked in a house at Rome, Ga., were burned to death by fire. The children were found by a neighbor who had been called to the house by a fire alarm.

John Kitterman drank carbolic acid by mistake for medicine near Princeton, Ill. He is in a critical condition.

Frederick Glover, riding his bicycle on Long point at San Harbor, L. I., was struck by a motor car and killed.

At Telde, Cuba, Nicholas Geron, a Russian, was killed by a falling barrel of dynamite.

Thomas Hicks, a 70-year-old man, was killed by a falling barrel of dynamite.

The Delavan, Albany's famous hotel, is burned, and an unknown number of people are killed.

At Rome, Ga., Dora Williams locked her three children in her home and died. The result was that the children were killed.

John McClatchie, living near Syracuse, Ind., was dragged to death by a runaway horse which he was riding to water.

Dr. Alexander of Wyandot, Ohio, fell into an unwell while responding to a midnight call and before he was rescued the patient died.

By the time Alaska is ready for settlement its resources will probably be much improved, which is far better than to have a great waste of immigration to destroy them.

The Siberian steamer, the Alaska, is increasing rapidly, and this is a good thing, as it is an invaluable help to settlers.

If the waste of fish and game along the coast could be stopped the big territory would be in excellent shape.

As they have advanced in Korea and China the Japanese generals have established a civil government in the territory occupied, and have aimed to make it a decided improvement on the corrupt and greedy Chinese system of administration.

A great many members of a congregation near Statesville, N. C., have refused to pay their share of the pastor's salary because he was a Democrat.

In another church in the same region a majority of the congregation applied to the presiding elder to remove the pastor because of his political faith.

A South Indian, N. C., a pastor of a Baptist church, was killed by a mob of his own people because he was a Democrat.

A Danish inventor has constructed a series of nine aluminum globes, fitted with paddles for sailing in the air and spikes for traveling over ice, by which he proposes, at one stroke, to solve the problem of aerial navigation and to take the north pole.

Bookkeeper Seely, who has been sentenced for eight years, remarks, at the conclusion of an account of his crime, that "no one can afford to have a bookkeeper for a partner."

Mr. Seely's first inadvertence was with an overdraft for $10,000, and he kept adding to it for ten years until the overdraft amounted to $354,000. He is just a persistent thief, and there is no moral lesson in his career, except that he was caught.

Important Occurrences of the Week. The following are the most important events of the week, arranged for rapid reading, from Home and Abroad.

Washington. The terms of 135 presidential posts expire during this month.

Congressman McElrick declares that he will press his bill for the creation of a department of commerce.

Treasury officials believe receipts will be about $100,000,000 for the entire six-year term, but for four years.

Contrary to custom, the new United States senators to be elected in Montana, Wyoming and Colorado, will receive salaries for the entire six-year term, but for four years.

Mrs. Louise Caldwell, aged seventy-one, and immensely wealthy, was married to Mr. John G. Thompson, N. Y., in her eightieth year.

John Schneider of Greentown, Ind., died Saturday. Within an hour after the funeral his body was found in the water in Kokomo.

The Rev. Thomas A. Hughes, a priest at St. Louis university, has been summoned to Rome to work in the Vatican library.

It is again asserted that the marriage of Lillian, Duchess of Marlborough, to Lord William Russell, was claimed by so many cities after his death.

Mrs. D. C. Bloomer, the well known advocate of dress reform for women and the inventor of the "bloomer," died at her home in New York, aged seventy-six years.

Walt H. Butler, the ex-congressman who disappeared from Elveland, was found in a small boat in the Indian Ocean, and he has no recollection of how he reached the latter place.

Joseph Freeman of Utah township, Ind., was adjudged insane ten years ago, but his mind was not so unbalanced as to lend him to a newspaper in giving a big return for a nickel.

Marjorie Mathilde de Greville, widow of a French nobleman, who, as a member of Maximilian's staff, was killed in Mexico in the Franco-Mexican war, died in New York. She was a direct descendant of Louis XVI.

Three children who had been locked in a house at Rome, Ga., were burned to death by fire. The children were found by a neighbor who had been called to the house by a fire alarm.

A place on "the force" has been made highly desirable by the confessions of captains and inspectors that they have accumulated fortunes of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Upon the far western plains the antelope, a few years ago so familiar a sight to the traveler by rail or wagon has now almost wholly disappeared. In Colorado, Texas and western Kansas, shy hands numbering from two or three to half a dozen antelopes are sometimes sighted, where fifteen years ago the herds were many and large.

It is now the turn of Cadmus to surrender the fame he has long enjoyed for bestowing an alphabet on Greece. Several stones taken to the island of Crete prove the existence of the introduction of the Phoenician alphabet. Archaeologists are evidently bent on showing that the ancient celebrities are really quite modern.

By the time Alaska is ready for settlement its resources will probably be much improved, which is far better than having a great waste of immigration to destroy them. The Siberian railway taken to Alaska is being built rapidly, and this domesticated nation will be an invaluable help to settlers. If the waste of fish and game along the coast could be stopped the great territory would be in excellent shape.

As they have advanced in Corea and China the Japanese generals have established a civil government on the territory occupied, and have aimed to make it a decided improvement on the corrupt and greedy Chinese system of administration. These provinces may become a model to the old order of things, and there are no signs that Japan intends to give them the chance.

A great many members of the congregation near Statesville, N. C., have refused to pay their share of the pastor's salary because he was a Democrat. In another church in the same region a majority of the congregation applied to the presiding elder to remove the pastor because of his political faith. In South Ireland, N. C., a prominent populist member of a church told the pastor publicly that his salary would be arrears if he voted or worked for the Democratic party.

A Danish inventor has constructed a series of nine aluminum globes, fitted with paddles for sailing in the air and apices for traveling over ice, by which he proposes, at one stroke, to solve the problem of aerial navigation and to reach the north pole. The globes bear hollow and six feet in diameter afford the necessary room for storage, with a minimum of weight. It is in the hands of the inventor, and the Dane is no more of a dreamer than the other flying-machine men.

Bookkeeper Seely, who has been sentenced for eight years, remarks on the execution of an account of his crime, that "no one can inadvertently make a mistake by not being to others. Mr. Seely's first indelicacy was with an overdraft for $1,000, and he kept adding it for ten years until the deduction amounted to $30,000. He is now a prisoner because there is no more reason in his career except that his wife caught him committing adultery."

The pope has openly shown his pleasure at the action of Russia in sending Count Lobanoff-Rostovsk, Russian ambassador at Vienna, to announce his accession to the throne of Russia. The new parliament building at Berlin is a splendid structure, erected at a cost of $7,000,000. New York's new capitol is a monstrous, already crumbling structure, erected at a cost of $22,000,000, and $2,000,000 more are needed to complete the architect's plans.

A Detroit scientist claims that the earth's seasons are caused by the atmosphere at the poles acting as lenses to gather and condense the solar light. His argument in support of the idea is elaborate, and he contends that more of nature's secrets are hidden at the poles than is supposed.

In the case of the poet Helme the race is reversed of Homer, who was claimed by so many cities after his death. Helme's nationality, Düsseldorf, has declined a gift of his statue, and so has Mainz, where he lived for a time. The poet was too sharp a critic of Germany to be easily forgotten.

In Colorado, Texas and western Kansas, shy hands numbering from two or three to half a dozen antelopes are sometimes sighted, where fifteen years ago the herds were many and large.

It is now the turn of Cadmus to surrender the fame he has long enjoyed for bestowing an alphabet on Greece. Several stones taken to the island of Crete prove the existence of the introduction of the Phoenician alphabet. Archaeologists are evidently bent on showing that the ancient celebrities are really quite modern.

By the time Alaska is ready for settlement its resources will probably be much improved, which is far better than having a great waste of immigration to destroy them. The Siberian railway taken to Alaska is being built rapidly, and this domesticated nation will be an invaluable help to settlers. If the waste of fish and game along the coast could be stopped the great territory would be in excellent shape.

As they have advanced in Corea and China the Japanese generals have established a civil government on the territory occupied, and have aimed to make it a decided improvement on the corrupt and greedy Chinese system of administration. These provinces may become a model to the old order of things, and there are no signs that Japan intends to give them the chance.

A great many members of the congregation near Statesville, N. C., have refused to pay their share of the pastor's salary because he was a Democrat. In another church in the same region a majority of the congregation applied to the presiding elder to remove the pastor because of his political faith. In South Ireland, N. C., a prominent populist member of a church told the pastor publicly that his salary would be arrears if he voted or worked for the Democratic party.

A Danish inventor has constructed a series of nine aluminum globes, fitted with paddles for sailing in the air and apices for traveling over ice, by which he proposes, at one stroke, to solve the problem of aerial navigation and to reach the north pole. The globes bear hollow and six feet in diameter afford the necessary room for storage, with a minimum of weight. It is in the hands of the inventor, and the Dane is no more of a dreamer than the other flying-machine men.

He is now a prisoner because there is no more reason in his career except that his wife caught him committing adultery."

County Superintendent Wilson's salary has been raised by the commissioners to $500. Considering Mr. Wilson's ability to fill the position, the manner in which he does his work, and the difficulty in performing those duties in a sparsely settled county like Crow Wing, the raise in his salary was not too much, in fact, should have been more.

but more recently superintendent of and well qualified to fill the position

One of the best, if not the best and most artistic dramatic production ever witnessed in this city, was the rendition of the "Crust of Society" by the Carrie Turner company at the opera house on Friday evening last. Every actor was an artist. There was not a "stick" in the entire company, and Miss Turner as Cynthia Chapel and Edgar Davenport as Oliver St. Aubyn, have been too generally praised by a critical daily press to need any praise from us. Manager Davidson deserves great credit for bringing such meritorious attractions to this city. The attendance was not large.

1248, Fergus Falls 1100, St. Cloud 1100 Crookston 1000. Brainerd em-cities mentioned have 26 each except Crookston which has 16.

Wedding Bells.

On Wednesday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shontell, on 8th street south, was the scene of a very pretty wedding. The contracting parties were H. Dee Simons, one of Brainerd's most popular young men, and Miss Mae E. N. Mitchell, a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm.
Shontell. The ceremony which united the happy couple was conducted by Rev. Geo. E. Rowe, of the Baptist church, W. A. M. Johnston acting as groomsmen, and Miss Minnie Chase, as bridesmaid. About forty people, only the most intimate friends and relatives of the bride and groom were present. A sumptuous wedding supper was served after the happy couple had received the congratulations and hearty good wishes of all present.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Dunlap, of Minneapolis, the lady being a sister of the groom.

After the guests had departed Mr.
Simons and his bride went to their home on 4th street north, where they will reside. Mr. Simons is a most popular and exemplary young man Thos. McBride, a lumberman whose home is in Minneapolis, met a horrible death last Saturday night about 11 o'clock at the river log landing of the B. & N. M. Railroad in this city.

Mr. McBride was engaged in unloading a car load of logs, and had just unfastened the chain which bind the logs, when a log on top of the load rolled down and striking the stakes broke them precipitating the entire load down on McBride carrying him with them down into the river killing him instantly. His body was recovered and brought to Losey & Dean's mortuary, where the remains were taken charge of by the local lodge of A. O. H., of which deceased was a member. He was 39 years old. His friends in the Flour city were notified by wire, and at their request his remains were shipped there on Tuesday for burial.

Brainerd's Loss.

As predicted in our last issue, Rev.
Geo. H. Davis has accepted the call from Mankato, and will leave Brainerd for that city about the middle of February to enter his new field of work.
Mr. Davis has been pastor of St. Paul's church in this city for about eight years, during which time he has labored in entire accord with all the members of his church, gaining their confidence and esteem. He is also greatly admired and respected by all citizens of our city not members of his church, and his departure from our midst will be regretted by all. He goes to a larger field where his abilities as a minister and religious worker will have larger scope. His departure will be a loss to Brainerd, but we have the consolation of knowing that our loss will be his gain, and an advantage to the community in which he has cast his lot.

Your Own Birthday Party.

The Ladies' of the First Congregational church will give a novel entertainment at Mrs. S. F. Alderman's next Wednesday evening, January 16th. It will be your own birthday party. The following invitation, in verse, is being sent out, and with each is a small silk bag, in which each person attending is supposed to put as many pennies as they are years old.
It is needless to say that none of the ladies will bring more than 18 pennies.
The invitations read:

This birthday party is given to you, We hope you will come, and promise if you do,
An agreeable time, some good things to eat,
And besides many others, a musical treat.

We couldn't secure the number of candles,
To let your light shine, we send you this tangle,
Put safely within it, as many round pennies
As years you are old (we hope you are many).
Your light will be bright if you bring it or send it, While we keep dark, if you wish, What's within it.

The Congregational Ladies, with greetings most hearty, Feel sure you will come to your own birthday party, At Mrs. Alderman's, January 16th, the date,
Is the time and place for the birthday fête.

Ski-u-mah Quartette.

The above organization, assisted by Prof. W. P. Heapes, a fine dramatic reader, gave a very pleasing entertainment at the opera house on Wednesday evening to a rather slim audience. The Quartette rendered some very delightful music and they were frequently encored, as was also Prof. Heapes after nearly ever number.

After the entertainment a reception was given the members of the Quartette and Prof. Heapes, at the residence of Hon. and Mrs. A. F. Ferris, where the host, assisted by C. A. Albright, a classmate of Prof. Heapes at the University, nicely entertained them and a party of young people from the city. Those present were Messrs C. J. Zintheo, J. M. Davis, T.
M. Hughes and J. L. Adams, of the Quartette, and Prof. Heapes. Also Messrs Guy Stratton, Frank G. Hall, Justin M. Smith and Wm. A. Spencer and Misses Minnie and Nellie Merritt, Katie Whiteley, Bessie Robinson and Ella Campbell of this city.
There was an exceedingly fine supper, music and a general good time.

Ex-City Clerk Murphy Killed.

Patrick Murphy, formerly of this city, was instantly killed at Billings, Montana, on Monday afternoon last.
He was employed in the N. P. yards in that city when he fell under the wheels of a moving car and was run over and crushed to death. Mr. Murphy was for many years N. P. yard master in this city and also city clerk, and was well known here.

sister of Mrs. Murphy, has gone to Billings to attend the funeral.

A Card.

My attention has been called to a statement which appeared in this week's Journal, to the effect that "the gambling rooms in this city opened up and resumed business on Tuesday evening of this week." Now, I am not prepared to believe Mr. Stivers capable of making such an assertion, which it is perhaps unnecessary for me to pronounce an absolute falsehood, without some foundation at least which would warrant it. I will frankly admit, however, that my esteemed contemporary may perhaps enjoy opportunities for obtaining information in regard to the movements of the gambling fraternity not afforded the police. But in whatever manner he has obtained this "exclusive" bit of news, I would simply request him, as the good citizen I think him to be, to give me all the information in his possession concerning the alleged reopening of the gambling rooms, and I promise that if his information is as reliable as it is exclusive, that it will be received with thanks, and prompt and decisive action will be taken by the city authorities. Our truly good brother should spread out and tell what he knows or forever hold his peace. Very truly, A. J. HALSTED, Mayor.

The council met in regular session on Monday evening, all the aldermen being present.

After the reading of the minutes the reports of the clerk of the municipal court, chief of police and street lected in fines. There were 39 arrests, of whom 16 paid fines, and the rest were committed or discharged.

The report of the city clerk, concerning electric light collections, was received and accepted, and the matter of collecting amounts from delinquents was left in the clerk's hands.

allowed, the following being the more important:

domestic lights was laid on the table.

On motion the present police force was instructed to watch the Third Ward for the present.

The clerk was instructed to notify opened the council on motion adjourned.

The County Fair.

Lovers of the country and country life will be given an opportunity for enjoyment in the production of "The County Fair" at Sleeper Opera House next Tuesday night. This will be the first presentation of the play in Brainerd. "The County Fair's" great success throughout the land is familiar to playgoers. It is essentially a story of the country and country folk and the scent of clover and the sheen of yellow corn permeates it. It is full of laughable episodes, and presents characters whose prototypes may be seen at any time in farm lands of New England. Abigail Prue, a spinster, adopts two waifs who aid her in relieving the mortgage from her farm by means of her speedy colt, Cold Molasses, who wins a race and secures a suitor.

This episode naturally introduces a great effect, viz, a real horse race, which is accomplished by means of Neil Burgess' patented moving platforms. Already the electricians have arranged the stage for the receptions of the mechanism, and this effect will be given in its entirety. The other realistic items will be well staged, and the husking bee, with all its singing and dancing, is promised as a feature.

Garrison Items.

Snow is here at last.

The farmers are all busy hauling up their wood and hay.

Well, the holiday season is over, was in town one day this week on business.

Win Pritzer, of Chicago, Ill., is for a few days.

Henry Pusson is busy measuring out hay nowadays. He is getting $5 per ton on the meadow.

Wm. Gergen has begun hauling his logs to Grave Lake, where they will be sawed.

Miss Alice E. Dykeman was home visiting her parents during the vacation of the Brainerd school, which she is attending.

Quite a large crowd of young folks gathered at R. S. Rofidal's on New Year's Eve and gave them a surprise.
They danced the old year out and the new year in, and all enjoyed a good time.

LEON E. LUM IN EUROPE.

Interesting Description of His Experience in the Gay Cities of the Continent.

LUCERNE, Dec. 13, 1894.

ED. DISPATCH.—We have just come from Munich which is celebrated all over Europe for its beer and justly.
The emblem of the city is a boy with a glass of beer in one hand and three turns in the other.

A citizen told us "things are fine with beer" probably because they make one want more beer. They drink it from stone jugs which are a good deal like a butter jar with a handle and cover, yet my brother says the steins at Lucerne are for ten or a dozen glasses in an evening, and that they have contests to see who shall play the fellow who drinks his glass and says "beer" first goes free.

The beer is really excellent, not bitter and strong like ours. I have been now a month in large cities where the people drink water only when they have to, and have seen only one drunk man and him in Vienna, a city as large and fast as Chicago.

It is fast in a different way though.
The women of the respectable classes go wherever the men do, and what is a saloon with us is a restaurant here.
One can have a very good time in Vienna. Going up Mt. Pilatus today we met a couple of American boys, and in the conversation one of them said "Isn't Vienna gorgeous?" and that expressed it very well. Saw Wagner's opera. Stopped at the first night. A mother took her little son part of a fairy, and as she weighs about three hundred pounds it required the exercise of one's imagination to see her get a pension of $8000 a year though besides her salary.

The Viennese love music. It is almost impossible to get a good seat.
Many people pay a fixed sum per year for the privilege of choosing their seats. The opera and the theaters all commence at 7 o'clock, and usually finish before ten for a singular reason. Nearly everybody lives in large apartment houses which have only one outside door, and this door is locked at ten o'clock by the portier, who is entitled to a fee of four cents for opening the door, and to save this four cents they go to so much trouble, and it is quite an inconvenience as they do not usually have supper till 7:30. At the opera the Auditor everyone is compelled to leave hats and wraps of all description, which makes the house present a very homelike appearance. It is the same at other cities.

At Lucerne we saw a very handsome ball and dance attended by one hundred and fifty and the American minister, Bartlett Tripp, of Dakota and his wife were at home.

At our Pension was a German baron, that is, his father is a baron, so he, being the oldest son, is entitled to the name. They have an estate in Russia, near the frontier, and the young fellow speaks Russian, German, French, and some Italian and Bohemian.

He is a state-struck, and his father, who has sent him to Vienna to be hYPNOTIZED. The idea was that when he should be hypnotized he must not tell the stage, and after the came out of the hypnotic state he would not want to. At the asylum, or wherever it was they gave the treatment, they could not get him hypnotized in his normal condition, so they tried to make him nervous by giving him frequent baths and then tried chloroforming. They were all apparently in earnest and it struck me as very funny.

The stores in Vienna are usually very small, especially the jewelry stores, and the jeweler put a large part of their stock in the windows, which swing on hinges toward the street. One day a fellow coolly walked up, unlocked one, stuffed his pockets, shut the window, and walked off with $35.00 worth of precious stones, and has not come back. People supposed he was the proprietor.

Since a above written we have come to Paris, and of all the extravagant robber's dens, it is the worst.

I meant to have gotten T. R. Condon's address, and am wondering how to find him.

LEON E. LUM.

"I made a trip from Chicago to Other St. Paul and Minneapolis with Night my wife on the famous North-Western Limited. For the price of a section in the Private Compartment Sleepers, as cozy a little room as was ever built inside a railroad car—not so very little either; it took up the whole width of the car excepting a narrow aisle and the sideboard and large berth. I said it was cozy—it was more; it was magnificent, and we spent the evening as comfortably, and with as much privacy as if we had been in our own home. I do not put it too strongly when I say that this train is the personification of Rolling Luxury, and that the North-Western Line runs the finest trains for all discriminating Montana travelers to patronize in going East via the Standard, and the Standard, Anaconda, Montana.

"A Little Farm Well Tilled" Is worth a good deal more to the owner than a big farm of 160 or 320 acres only scratched over. Send me your name and I will send you an illustrated pamphlet showing where you can get such a farm. CHARLES S. FEE, General Passenger Agent
Northern Pacific Railroad, St. Paul, Minn.

"Par" is no factor of the present day happ that so represents the rapid Travel material progress of our civilization the luxury of modern travel.
For instance, scarcely a single home comfort missing in the completely appointed North-Western Limited. Its equipment embraces every luxury known to modern travel. It is vestibuled and lighted brilliantly with gas from end to end and you can walk through it as through some stately hall of some palace. Instead of a journey being a hardship, on a train like this one, it is a fascinating recreation and treat.—The Times, St. Cloud, Minnesota.

"The County Fair" as its title suggests, is a story of the country. Its scene of action is laid in New England, and its characters are as true to life as a rag weed by a dusty road. It is described as laughable and bright comedy, with an excellent dramatic interest to keep the mind from dwelling entirely on the cows horses and hay makers. The production will be garmented with a complete scenic environment, and the running horse race, which has caused so much sensation elsewhere, will be given exactly as at the Union Square Theatre, New York. The sale of seats is now in progress.

Senator Fair thought he was proving himself against all possible charges when he left $50,000 to any widow who might turn up, and a like amount for any children who might have been forgotten. A man who had been as easy in life as he was of, of course, liable to forget a wife or two, or a group of children here and there.
